Introduction
English Reading and Writing I is the first course in the four semester English Reading and Writing course sequence. It is an intermediate level course designed to help students apply their English language skills through intensive reading and writing practice.

Outline
The syllabus intends to develop each student's reading and writing skills with a particular focus on the following: predicting content, identifying main ideas, identifying details, skimming and scanning, inferring word meaning from context, inferring information not explicit in a text, classifying information, expressing opinions, and writing coherently and appropriately for particular genres.

Prerequisite
Students should enter this course with the English proficiency level of an average Taiwanese senior high school student.
