Introduction

Journalistic English will give the student intensive practice in the comprehension of authentic English news reports. Though the first semester will emphasize written sources (e.g., English-language newspapers and websites), it will also involve some listening.

Outline

In the first semester class project, the students will work as a team to produce an issue the E-Leaf Times, the English Department newspaper.

Prerequisite

The course content will be thematically organized, with readings, listening materials, and vocabulary lists for each theme. Special attention will be devoted to the linguistic features of written news reports (e.g., the format of newspaper articles) and to critical reading skills (e.g., the detection of bias or hidden intent).
