Introduction
Evaluation and assessment are linked together and are an essential component of any sound language curriculum. This course is designed to help students understand the role of evaluation and assessment in language education. The key issues and types of assessment and evaluation are presented in an accessible way. Strategies for classroom assessment and program evaluation are given for them to design their tests as well as their case study research. In the balance of principles and practice, the learning activities will encourage students to make links between ideas that are introduced and their own experiences of language teaching, learning and use.

Outline
After completing this course, the students will be able to : <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Explore issues and practices that can relate assessment and evaluation.2.
