Introduction

This is a two-semester course for enhancing English listening comprehension. In this course, students will practice different listening or thinking strategies, such as guessing the meaning from context, listening for emotions, and making inferences. A special attention is also paid towards different types of listening in TOEIC.

The goal of this course is to improve student listening ability through intensive practice. It intends to reinforce the skills students have acquired through successful completion of the English Listening and Speaking and English Conversation course sequences during the freshman and sophomore years. The main focus is on comprehension of English conversation, authentic radio programs, or academic lectures in a variety of social settings.
